Statement from a former teacher about the area

Hello,

"It is a standard LeoPalace apartment (1K). It is small but not as small as some of the apartments I have seen in Tokyo."

Living in Chiryu is nice if you take the effort to use Chiryu as a junction. You can take Japanese lessons at Kariya, you can travel to Nagoya to find anything, you can visit Okazaki for Jazz.

The selling point is that Chiryu is a junction to these great places. You are also in the middle of Japan for holidays so you can go about anywhere."

Sincerely,
James
